

10-POINT PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR ASSOCIATION

Movie Of P. C. Life Is Being Filmed

15-Minute Show To Be Used By Field Secretary Osman.

Representatives of the National Bureau of Private Schools of New York were here recently to make movie shots of campus life at P. C. They have been traveling throughout the South making campus movies of various colleges and universities. At present Presbyterian is perhaps the first in this state to have such pictures made.

A reel that will take 15 minutes to reproduce on the screen was made. The college saw quite a busy time as members of the student body were suddenly converted into movie actors. The film will show pictures of the personnel of the college, views of the campus, and the college equipment. Scenes were made of a story of a day's life at P. C., beginning with rising, breakfast, drill, chapel, and classes. Shots of athletic activities were taken. Activities of several organizations were shot with the members playing the parts of the actors.

The film is being made by one of the best known bureaus of private schools which long has been making such movies. The movie will be used by the college in the solicitation of students, in alumni gatherings, and other instances where it will be useful in portraying campus life here. One print of the film will be left in the bureau's studio in New York where it may be shown at any time to interested friends in that section of the country. It will be shown in the chapel here as soon as it is completed.

The cameramen will come back to the college in May to make natural color shots of campus life when the outdoor athletic activities are in full swing.

Religious Services Began Here Monday

Presbyterian college's annual series of religious services began on Monday, February 22, with Dr. J. N. Thomas, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Charleston, delivering the addresses.

Two services are being held each day through Friday. One service is in the college chapel at 11:45 each morning and another in the First

(Continued on page two)

"Presbyterian Day" In Greenville Churches

Faculty Members Occupy Pulpits In Textile Center.

Sunday, Feb. 21, was Presbyterian college day in Greenville as the Presbyterian churches of the city opened their pulpits to P. C. faculty members and administrative officers.

At the First Presbyterian church, President William P. Jacobs addressed the men's Bible class at ten o'clock and conducted the worship services at 11:15. The glee club was with Mr. Jacobs during the first part of this service.

Dr. F. D. Jones, professor of philosophy at Presbyterian, addressed the congregation of the Second Presbyterian church. He was assisted by the glee club during the latter part of the service.

The services at the Third Presbyterian church were conducted by Rev. B. H. Boyd, professor of Bible at P. C., at 11:15.

The morning services of the Fourth Presbyterian church were conducted by Dean Marshall W. Brown. He was assisted by short talks from two prominent P. C. alumni in Greenville, Charles H. Garrison and Dr. John M. Fewell.

The Monaghan Presbyterian church had Prof. H. E. Sturgeon, professor of chemistry at P. C., as its guest speaker at the morning services.

At 5:00 p. m. a deputation team of students of Presbyterian college, led by Dean Marshall W. Brown, conducted vespers at the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. Jacobs, assisted by the glee club, conducted the vespers of the Third church at 5:00 o'clock.

At 8:00 o'clock the college went on the air over radio station WFBC, when Mr. Jacobs gave an address and the glee club of the college gave several selections.

Jacobs Is Honored By Clinton Rotarians

William P. Jacobs, president of Presbyterian college, received a signal honor on February 8 as the Clinton Rotary club presented him with an engraved scroll for his outstanding service to the community of Clinton in the fields of industry, education, promotion, organization, building and Rotary.

(Continued on page two)

President Jackson Gives Alumni Plans

Association To Move Toward Definite Goal.

President Louis W. Jackson, '28, of the Alumni Association, announces a ten-point program that has been drawn up to guide the alumni work during the coming year.

It is the purpose of the program to set forth the new ideals of the Alumni Association as it enters a period of development and one of contribution to P. C.

The ten points are:

1. The developing of a well-coordinated national association of P. C. alumni, founded, financed and directed on a permanent basis.

2. Organizing and reorganizing local Alumni Associations that P. C. men may know what is going on at P. C.

3. Use of traveling alumni secretary to assist local association to plan meetings, dinners, smokers; assist officers to publicize local activities; furnish speakers, movies, and other materials.

4. Coordinate the separate Alumni units with the central office at P. C. for greater benefit to P. C. and to individual units.

5. The continuance of the Alumlite as an organ of the Alumni, with more contributions from the Alumni. It shall be the duty of the secretary of each unit to send at least three letters a year on the members and work of his unit to the Alumlite editor.

6. Inform all the units of the successful activities of other groups and assist in directing similar activities.

7. The awarding each year of the gold "Alumnus P" to an outstanding "Alumnus of the Year."

8. Enlist the support of the Alumni in a scholarship program designed to develop their interest in and contact with P. C.

9. Enlist the support of the Alumni in the enrolling of new students. Through a P. C. rally meeting, continued activity and a scholarship the P. C. Alumni will help bring leadership material to their Alma Mater.

10. Establishment and emphasis on the placement bureau for use of Alumni who have a place for P. C. graduates in their set-up. Contact can be established through the traveling secretary or the placement bureau office.

These are the points of a program
(Continued on page two)

The Alumlite

Hugh Holman, '36 Editor
L. W. Jackson, '28 Alumni Advisor
John Osman, '33 Alumni Secretary

EDITORIALS

THE SCHOOL OF THE FUTURE

There's a strange atmosphere at Presbyterian college these days. It's the feeling in the air that everyone associated with the college is working with something that is headed for the stars. Not that P. C. isn't tops today—but that P. C. is really going places beyond even the dreams of two or three years ago.

You run into it in the student body. They have an intense faith in the future of the college. And you who have been members of the student body can appreciate how truly indicative of future events that feeling must be.

You run into it in the faculty. Wide-awake and working shoulder to shoulder for the P. C. of the future, there is enthusiasm and determination in the faces of every one of them.

And most of all, you see it in the dynamic figure who is leading the college to that future. You can read it in the burning enthusiasm shining from his eyes. You can feel it in the personality of the man when he stands before the student body, holding their undivided interest and carrying conviction with every word. You will be swept away by it when he begins telling you of the plans for the future which he has—fantastically impossible plans, you think at first. Then you remember all the impossible things that this man has done. You look at the P. C. of today and compare it with the P. C. of yesterday and the P. C. of the future becomes a glowing reality to you.

You who are far away, must by this time be sensing it. Get the feeling! Realize with us that P. C. is really going places! And support us, boost us, aid us!

Secretary Issues Call For Alumni Dues

Dear Alumnus:

The calls for Alumni Association membership dues that have gone out through this publication and through personal visits are bringing excellent results.

You are each urged to send in your dues that the General Scholarship Fund into which they are going will grow into real proportions.

Every alumnus will have his five dollar dues placed to the credit of his local or the general fund as it is received.

We call this to your attention again and urge that you get in behind this splendid Alumni Scholarship program with an early forwarding of your dues.

TURK OSMAN, '33,
Alumni Secretary.

P. C. GRADUATE DARES JUNGLE DANGERS AS HE GAINS RENOWN IN BIOLOGY WORK

Emmet Blake, former Greenwood boy and Presbyterian college graduate, sailed from New York January 28th, for British Guiana, on his fifth trip of biological exploration in the jungles of South and Central America.

The present expedition, for the Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago, of which he recently was made assistant curator, is to be the most extensive he has ever undertaken. When it is recalled that it was in this general section of the tropical wilderness that the aviator Redfern disappeared some years ago, it can be seen that Mr. Blake and his Indian cargadores will meet with adventure of many kinds to test their stamina and imagination.

From the coast of British Guiana, the expedition work will go inland to the great Kietur falls, five times as high as Niagara. After collecting birds, mammals and reptiles in this region, the scientist hopes to explore and collect specimens on a mountain near the frontier of Venezuela, supposed never yet to have been ascended by a white man.

If all goes well, Mr. Blake hopes to return to the island of Trinidad in the early summer to find a new outfit shipped by his museum. From Trinidad it is planned to sail around to Rio for work in the interior of Brazil.

The principal object of the Brazilian expedition is to hunt and study the rhea, the elusive South American ostrich. But it is expected that many kinds of tropical animals will be taken.

In this difficult and sinister Motto Grasso region, his principal assistant will be the scout, Sasha Seimel, the famed "tiger man" of "Green Hell," with whom Mr. Blake became acquainted on previous trips. Readers of the gripping book of that title, recalling the skill of the Russian engineer, will consider the scientist fortunate to have him along. It is Seimel's boast that he kills his jaguars with spears and not with guns. But the young American, out to add to scientific knowledge, rather than for pure adventure, is willing to use his automatic on the larger animals.

On each of his other jungle trips, danger has lurked in unexpected places, and in forms other than the familiar fang and claw.

It was the propeller of a motor boat and a ferocious ten-inch fish that came near ending his scientific career seven years ago, at the age of twenty-one. Overboard to save precious supplies, rapids in the Orinoco sucked him within inches of the whirling blades. And these waters were alive with the savage little fish which quickly tear the hide, even from a crocodile, the moment a wound excites its thirst for blood.

In Honduras it was not the danger of being devoured by frenzied little paranhas, but one bone of a harmless fish and the remoteness of a doctor that caused the gravest threat. The jungles and mountains of Guatemala proved no more and no less dangerous than the average. But a big monkey, jumping on a huge rotten limb to escape, sent it crashing down near the head of the man studying the monkeys.

Mr. Blake's last expedition, which was the first to bring biological specimens out of the inaccessible Coxcombs mountains of British Honduras, netted him more than a thousand interesting specimens. Here it was beef worms, unintentionally collected, that slowed the expedition and gave its leader a narrow escape from blood-poisoning. This Central American cousin of the screw worm, a menace to wounded cattle in the South, is deposited in the form of an almost invisible egg on the flesh or clothing of its victim.

On other trips, Mr. Blake has discovered birds and reptiles new to science. Each season of field work enables a scientist to discount more successfully the hazards he must encounter. Though the present undertaking is decidedly his most extensive and difficult, his friends are predicting he will come through successfully with still further additions to the body of his chosen science.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES BEGAN HERE MONDAY

(Continued from page one)

Presbyterian church at 7:30 in the evening.

Dr. Thomas is a young man and one of the South's outstanding ministers. He recently addressed the student body of the college in one of the Sunday afternoon Y.M.C.A. services. Students conducted their "week of prayer" prior to the week's services. Social fraternities held brief prayer groups immediately after the evening meal and there were dormitory services at 10 o'clock each night.

JACOBS IS HONORED BY ROTARIANS

(Continued from page one)

Dean Marshall W. Brown of the college gave an address in which he sketched the unusual and outstanding things which Mr. Jacobs is doing in the field of education.

Walter A. Johnson told of Mr. Jacobs' business and civic accomplishments.

Dr. B. O. Whitten presented Mr. Jacobs with the scroll and spoke feelingly of the excellent and widespread influence that he was having, not only in South Carolina, but throughout the South and the nation.

10-POINT PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR ASSOCIATION

(Continued from page one)

that will put the Alumni work of Presbyterian college on a high plane of service to the institution.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AT P. C.

An Attempt To Keep Alumni Informed of Doings At Their Alma Mater

RELIGIOUS

Religious Frat Selects Three New Members

Hubert Wardlaw, president, announced today that three men have recently been elected to membership in the local Gamma chapter of Delta Chi Alpha, national Christian leadership fraternity. They are William D. Hart, Atlanta, Ga.; S. T. Lipsey, Savannah, Ga., and W. H. Wilkerson, Scottsburg, Va.

Wilkerson, Lipsey and Hart have shown their interest in religious work by being active in the Y. M. C. A. here on the campus and by conducting services in neighboring churches on Sundays.

Boyd and Piephoff Are Honored By Ministerial Club

Professor B. H. Boyd of the faculty of Presbyterian college, and Rev. C. E. Piephoff of Greenville, S. C., were recently made honorary members of the Presbyterian college chapter of Delta Chi Alpha, national Christian leadership fraternity.

Mr. Boyd is an alumnus of the college and a graduate of Princeton Theological seminary. He did post-graduate work in English at Princeton university and is now assistant professor of English at P. C.

Mr. Piephoff recently spoke to the students here in one of the special Y. M. C. A. services held on Sunday afternoons. He is at present pastor of the Monaghan Presbyterian church, Greenville. He is an alumnus of P. C. and a graduate of Columbia Theological seminary.

Weekly Dorm Prayer Services Part of Religious Program

So enthusiastic was the student response to the nightly prayer services conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. in the dormitories at Presbyterian college immediately before the Christmas holidays, that the sponsors have been encouraged to make them permanent features of the college's religious life.

On each Wednesday evening at ten o'clock groups will meet in a selected room on each floor of each dormitory for brief devotionals and scripture readings for the remainder of the school year.

The entire program is being directed of the college Y. M. C. A. and under the leadership of "Y" President Chester Keller of Greenville.

ACADEMIC

Students Have Rest Period After Exams

With examinations completed on Saturday morning, January 23, Presbyterian college students entered a rest period which lasted until Tuesday afternoon before beginning second semester work.

The examinations, which began Monday, were held at the rate of two a day and were completed Saturday morning. There was no class room work on Monday as the professors utilized that time to correct papers and average up student grades.

On Tuesday afternoon registration for the second semester was held and class room work was resumed on Wednesday.

Second Semester Enrollment Is 318

Second semester enrollment at Presbyterian college surpassed the record mark reached last year, according to an announcement made by Registrar Lillian G. Brown as she completed tabulations on the recent registration period.

This year's figure is eight students higher than last year's with total second semester enrollment at 318 as compared with last year's previously unsurpassed mark of 310.

The original registration figure of 330 was affected by only ten withdrawals this year while last year fourteen students withdrew. Last year eleven students completed the semester but failed to re-register as compared with this year's four. One man, S. B. Marks, completed requirements for his degree the first semester and accepted a job as principal of a school at Barnwell.

This year's number included seven new students while last year's included but five.

Scholarship Shows Improvement

The scholastic average of students at Presbyterian college is steadily rising was the conclusion drawn from a report made by Registrar Lillian G. Brown.

The number of failures in the college this year was 20 per cent lower than that for the corresponding period last year, while the number of conditions for the two periods was 22 per cent beneath last year's.

This improvement can be attributed to increased work on the part of the students, according to Dean Marshall W. Brown, who stated that the academic standards had not been changed from last year.

Jacobs Begins New Student-Faculty Contact

A new contact between students and faculty members came into being at Presbyterian college recently as President William P. Jacobs instituted a student forum at his home.

Explaining that this was in line with the college's policy of attempting to develop original thinking among P. C. undergraduates to replace the prevalent "slide-rule" educational methods of today, Mr. Jacobs invited several seniors and faculty members to his home for discussion.

The night's discussion was about the matter of to what extent government should enter into regulation of industry.

The students present were high in praise of the forum experiment and expressed the desire that more such discussions be held.

And Contacts Increase As Frats Cooperate

Another contact has sprung up between students and faculty at Presbyterian college as the social fraternities, through the Panhellenic council, their governing body, began last week a series of "smokers" for faculty members.

Each fraternity is holding an informal gathering of the members to which they are inviting faculty members of the college. Refreshments are served and general discussions are held.

The first of these faculty-student "bull-sessions" was held last week by the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. The Beta Kappas are planning to follow suit immediately, and the presidents of each of the six national organizations have stated their groups' intention of holding such meetings during the early spring.

Sturgeon Tries To Duplicate A Mistake

"It might be worth a fortune if we could only find out how it was made," mused Professor H. E. Sturgeon, head of Presbyterian college's chemistry department, as he turned a hard, black cylinder in his fingers and studied its polished surface.

The find was a slightly blackish liquid that resulted from an organic experiment intended to yield furfural. It solidified in the test tube to form a resin-like substance, similar to bakelite, expanding as it solidified.

The experiment was run by a student and obviously something went wrong. Prof. Sturgeon's problem now is to discover just what impurity or unusual situation brought about the change.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AT P. C.

He is running a series of experiments, using various catalysts, meso-anhydride, which he believes was present to a small extent in the original experiment, and various acid and base solutions. The results so far have been furfural which has been disgustingly pure.

"Many great chemical discoveries have come about by accident," he says, "and it may be that we have something important here if we can only discover how it was made." And he bent over his condensers and test tubes again.

French Class Views French Film

Dr. Stephen M. Huntley, head of the department of romance languages at P. C., took his advanced French literature class to Columbia Saturday morning, Feb. 6, to see the French film, "Dr. Knock," which was shown at the Carolina theatre under the auspices of Pi Nu chapter of Beta Pi Theta.

The motion picture is adapted from the brilliant play by Jules Romain, and is built about the theme of a hoax doctor who terrifies a village into wholesome respect for an abstract deity, medicine.

Dr. Huntley's class has recently completed reading the play and he felt that seeing the picture, with dialogue in the original French, would help them greatly.

Prof. Boyd Attends Princeton Inaugural

Professor Bernard H. Boyd, of the English department and a graduate of Princeton represented the college at the inauguration of Dr. John Alexander Mackay as president of Princeton Theological seminary recently.

MILITARY

Collings Raised In Command

James K. Collings, of Atlanta, Ga., was elevated to the highest command in the Presbyterian college R.O.T.C. unit as Major R. E. Wyso, professor of military science and tactics, announced that he has been raised from major and battalion commander to lieutenant colonel and battalion commander.

J. B. Jacobs, of Clinton, was promoted from cadet captain and company commander to cadet major and executive commander.

Cadet Lieutenant G. E. Plunkett, of Conyers, Ga., was promoted to cadet captain and company commander.

Other promotions were: G. S. Beaty, Jr., of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, from cadet first sergeant to sergeant major and junior member of the executive staff; W. R. Williams, of Chattanooga, Tenn., from platoon sergeant to cadet first sergeant; C. D. Conrad, of Clinton, from corporal to cadet sergeant.

MUSIC

Glee Club Makes Extensive Tour

The Presbyterian college glee club recently completed an extensive concert tour which took them through the Southeastern part of Georgia.

The first concert of the series was given in Anderson, S. C., on the evening of February 8, and the following morning the club presented a morning program at Madison, Ga.

On the night of the 9th, it presented a program at Fort Valley, and then went to Moultrie, where it had a luncheon engagement for the next day.

On the evening of the 10th it was the guests of the Georgia State College for Women at Valdosta. The 11th found the group giving a morning concert at Americus, and that night they presented a program at Griffin.

The company returned to Clinton on the night of the 12th after giving a luncheon concert at Marietta on the way home.

The program presented consisted of classic, folk and popular songs rendered by the glee club, solos, duets, and quartet numbers by individual members of the club, and orchestra selections by Harris Gray and his boys.

LIBRARY

Sinnot Collection Larger Than Thought

Librarian Willard Jones of Presbyterian college announced that upon completion of the cleaning and assorting of the Dr. William I. Sinnot collection bequeathed to the college by Dr. Sinnot's will, he found that the library was increased by almost twenty thousand pieces.

The original estimate of 8,000 volumes did not include pamphlets and periodicals and was far too conservative, Librarian Jones stated.

The actual count showed 9,648 volumes and 10,047 pamphlets and periodicals in the collection.

Mr. Jones has expressed surprise and pleasure at the breadth and scope of the collection. Practically every field of human knowledge is covered, he stated.

Dean Marshall W. Brown, in looking over the collection, discovered several books on history and of historical significance which he had been attempting to find for his history courses but which are no longer in print.

An English student, who is interested in O. Henry and the development of the American short story, has discovered several volumes of old periodicals, principally McClure's and Everybody's, in which the majority of O. Henry's stories originally were published. He is considering using the collection to work up some material on the American raconteur.

The final cataloguing and shelving of this unusual collection will take considerable time, and since each day reveals new literary treasures and curiosities, Librarian Jones is looking forward to an engrossing task.

ATHLETICS

State Coaches Meet At P. C.

The coaches and athletic directors of South Carolina colleges met at Presbyterian college on Tuesday, Feb. 9, to draw up spring schedules.

Schedules for golf, tennis, and baseball were drawn up at the meeting and will be announced later.

Spring Athletics Taking Shape

Spring athletic at P. C. are beginning to take a definite form. The schedules are in some cases tentative, several dates being uncertain, but the number of engagements is complete, Coach Walter A. Johnson stated recently.

The baseball line-up has 20 games on it as the Hosemen, coached by Clarence "Chick" Galloway, former Philadelphia Athletics star shortstop, meet every college in the state in two or more games and tackle out-of-state foes in Emory and Henry, Davidson, and Oglethorpe.

Track will find the McMillian-coached cinder and weight boys tackling Furman, Clemson, Citadel, University of Georgia, Wofford, the University of South Carolina, and the University of Florida in dual meets.

The Blue Stocking tennis team, coached by the versatile President William P. Jacobs, assisted by Taylor Martin, has a 19-match schedule facing them, with the prospect of two or three more encounters being added. They meet Furman, Wofford, Erskine, Citadel, the University of South Carolina, and Clemson in two or more matches in the state, and play out-of-state teams in Elon, Davidson, Junior college of Augusta, and Appalachian.

The golf team, organized this year under the direction of Major R. E. Wyso, will have eight matches this spring, meeting Furman, Clemson, The Citadel, and the University of South Carolina at Clinton and on their home links.

In addition to its intensive dual program, Presbyterian college is host this year to the two outstanding athletic events of the spring.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AT P. C.

Under the able direction of Walter Johnson, the South Carolina Intercollegiate Track and Field meet will be held at P. C. on April 30 and May 1. Year after year this gala event has been held in Bailey Memorial stadium and so well organized has been its running that last year the Athletic Journal devoted over two pages to a feature article on its organization.

On May 6, 7, and 8 the tennis stars of the colleges of the state will meet at P. C. for the South Carolina Intercollegiate Tennis tournament which will be played on the tiers of courts at Presbyterian college.

BASEBALL

Twenty-Game Schedule Announced For Nine

At a meeting of South Carolina coaches and athletic directors held at Presbyterian college last week the schedule was drawn up for the Presbyterian baseball team for the 1937 season.

Twenty games are on the schedule, making it the stiffest that a Presbyterian college squad has ever played. The schedule is:

March 26—Emory and Henry at Clinton.

March 27—Davidson at Clinton.

March 30—Wofford at Spartanburg.

April 1—Newberry at Clinton.

April 3—Wofford at Clinton.

April 6—Furman at Greenville.

April 8—Oglethorpe at Clinton.

April 9—Oglethorpe at Clinton.

April 12—Furman at Clinton.

April 14—Newberry at Newberry.

April 15—Clemson at Clinton.

April 17—Citadel at Charleston.

April 19—University of South Carolina at Clinton.

April 21—Oglethorpe at Atlanta.

April 22—Oglethorpe at Atlanta.

April 26—Citadel at Clinton.

April 27—Erskine at Due West.

April 29—Erskine at Clinton.

May 4—University of South Carolina at Columbia.

May 6—Clemson at Clemson.

BASKETBALL

P. C. Team Now In Fourth Place

The Presbyterian college basketball team is now resting on the fourth round of the state championship ladder, a higher place than they've held in any previous season for years past.

They have fluctuated between first, second, third, and fourth, and as this goes to press they are the furthest down the ladder that they've been this season. But there is every indication that they'll scale back up the ladder to at least a third, and possibly a second place e'er the final game with The Citadel comes around on February 26.

They have lost two games to the state pacers, the University of South Carolina. They have split games with Erskine and Wofford. They have beaten Clemson, Furman, Newberry, and the College of Charleston. They have been beaten by The Citadel. The games remaining on the roster are: Newberry, Furman, The Citadel, and College of Charleston.

The quintet of Batchelor, Waldrep, Holcomb, Holden, and Johnston played the major portion of the games, and they are an inexperienced crew. Batchelor, Holden, and Holcombe are sophomores. Waldrep and Johnston are juniors. Next year, with more experience, they will be strong contenders for the state championship.

TRACK

Squad Begins Training Season

Twenty-five men groaned, grunted, and shivered on Johnson field Monday afternoon, Feb. 15, as they answered first call for track aspirants at Presbyterian college, and braved a February breeze to go through their first limbering-up exercises.

Missing from the group that answered the call were Joe Bradley, dash man extraordinary and state champion in the century and two-twenty last year; Roy Forehand, middle distance artist and state title holder in the 880; Phil Adams, miler; Colin Hudson and Preston Charles, two milers; Rex Wilbanks, pole vaulter, javelin flinger and shot putter; Jimmy Winget, dash man, and Allen Guerard and Frank Waldrep, hurdlers. All were lost by graduation.

Among the 25 who heeded the call were Bill Thompson and Baby Denard, dash men; Beeman and Hemphill, pole vaulters; Todd, Green, and Commander, middle distance men; Williams, shot put artist; Hipp, discus tosser; Joe Hollis, broad jump title holder, and Reynolds, last year's freshman hurdle champion.

TENNIS

More Acclaim Given P. C. Tennis Program

That Presbyterian college's tennis clinic and extensive tennis program is continuing to attract wide attention in the East is evidenced by an article on tennis by John Oliver published in the January 28 issue of The Richmond (Va.) News Leader.

After discussing amateur and professional tennis play and tournaments, Mr. Oliver concluded his article with the following statement:

"Presbyterian college at Clinton, S. C., is the leading tennis college of the United States. Tennis is a main sport there, and President William P. Jacobs, who donates blocking back trophies in the Southern and Southeastern conferences, is the tennis coach. They play on indoor and outdoor courts and hold a clinic each year."

GOLF

Eight Matches Announced For New Golf Team

At the meeting of South Carolina coaches and athletic directors held in Leroy Springs gymnasium at Presbyterian college last week, the following golf schedule was drawn up for the newly-created team at Presbyterian college:

April 6—Furman at Greenville.

April 12—Furman at Clinton.

April 15—Clemson at Clinton.

April 17—Citadel at Charleston.

April 19—University of South Carolina at Clinton.

April 20—Citadel at Clinton.

May 4—University of South Carolina at Columbia.

May 6—Clemson at Clemson.

P'ans Going Forward For State Tourney

The great and near great of South Carolina college tennis will swing skilled racquets to determine championships on Presbyterian college's courts May 6, 7 and 8 when the state intercollegiate tennis tournament will be held, according to an announcement made this morning by William P. Jacobs, president of the college, and chairman of the state tournament committee.

The committee met with the coaches and athletic directors of the state here recently and plans were drawn up for the committee. Seven colleges has stated their intention to enter the court play. Those sending representatives to the meeting were: Carolina, Clemson, Erskine, Wofford, The Citadel, Furman, and Presbyterian.

The committee limited entries to five singles and two doubles teams from each college. It will meet again a week prior to the tournament for drawings and seeding.

Taylor Martin, assistant coach of tennis at Presbyterian college, is working hard on the P. C. courts getting them in readiness for the grueling meet, while P. C. racquet stars practice drives and smashes on the indoor court in Leroy Springs gymnasium.

FENCING

Fencers Choose McElroy Captain

The Presbyterian college fencing team met last week, choosing for its captain Arthur McElroy, of Union. Captain McElroy is a fencer of considerable experience and ability, having been a member of The Citadel team before coming to P. C.

BOXING

Three Men Win In Golden Gloves

Three Presbyterian college pugilists were crowned champions in their respective classes and three others

(Continued on page eight)

WITH ALUMNI HERE AND THERE

Being a Sketchy Chronicle of the Comings and Goings of P. C. Graduates, Reported Largely
By the Alumni Secretary

'Alumnus of the Year' Will Get Gold Emblem

The commencement of 1937 will mark the inauguration of a new and interesting alumni activity.

Louis W. Jackson, '28, president of the Alumni Association, announces that at that time the first gold "Alumnus P" will be awarded to a distinguished son of P. C.

An alumni committee selected by the president will choose from among the men who have gone out from the college a man who has a distinguished record of service to his fellowman and designate him the "Alumnus of the Year." To him on commencement day will be presented a gold "Alumnus P."

The president of the association, in cap and gown, and the recipient of the recognition, also in cap and gown, will have a part in the day's ceremony.

Only one "Alumnus P" will be awarded each year, which will further enhance the distinction of receiving this recognition.

It is to be understood that the citation for this distinction will read "for service to his fellowmen." It will carry out the ideal of P. C.'s motto, "While the live, we serve."

This latest step of the Alumni Association is one that will bring attention to alumni participation in commencement day exercises, interest the alumni and set a goal before the young graduate on the threshold of his career.

Atlanta Meeting Set For February 15th

Dick Gillespie, '30, president of the Atlanta chapter, sends notice of a social meeting of the unit on the evening of February 15.

This get-together was held at the home of the parents of Mrs. Dunlap, wife of Orel Dunlap, '31, and was to be a real gabfest on good old times at P. C.

Cooperating with the Atlanta officers, notices were mailed to all the Atlanta members from the college alumni office, a service that the alumni secretary urges all units to use.

No news has come from this meeting, but we know that it was a successful reunion of Atlanta's P. C. clan that is doing a fine piece of alumni service.

WOODSIDE IN MEMPHIS

Word comes drifting in that Louis Woodside receives his mail in care of Anderson-Clayton Co., Memphis.

Greenville Unit To Meet February 24

Presbyterian college alumni of Greenville and vicinity will hold a meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 24, at 6:30 at the Poinsett hotel.

Charlie Garrison has accepted the local chairmanship for the get-together and will act as toastmaster.

President Jacobs will make the address of the evening and officers of a Greenville unit of the alumni association will be chosen.

The following alumni live in or near Greenville and are urged to attend this important meeting:

Doris Abrams, 503 E. Washington St.; Mrs. W. P. Anderson, Jr., Box 1262; Robert Paul Austin, 100 Lavinia Ave.; James Allen Bailey, First National Bank; Frances Drucilla Butler, 12 Whitner St.; Thomas S. Carpenter, Jr., 616 E. Washington St.; Robert Weir Davis, 312 Wilton St.; Dr. John M. Fewell, 222 N. Main St.; Dr. Wm. S. Fewel, 222 N. Main St.; Fred A. Fuller, Studebaker Motor Co.; Charles H. Garrison, The Piedmont; Thomas C. Gower; W. J. Brownley, Woodside Cotton Mill office; John C. Henry, E. North St.; Mrs. John C. Henry, E. North St.; B. Frank Godfrey, First National Bank; Mrs. R. E. Henry; Christopher C. Hindman, Jr., Hillcrest Drive; Furman B. Pinson, Slater Mill; Norman C. Hunt, Box 14, Southeastern Life Insurance Co.; James Edward Means, Jr.; J. E. Montgomery, Claussen Bakery; Rex A. Wilbanks; Dr. John G. Murray, 115 Vanoy St.; Miss Virginia Neville, Whitner St.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Newton, 91 Capers St.; Rev. C. E. Piephoff, Box 270; Robert Daniel Ritchie, 216 W. Mills Ave.; Ethan O. Todd; George A. Weathers, RFD 1, Westville high school; Sarah Wilson, 15 East Park Ave.; Henry J. Winn, Lavinia Ave.; Charles Laurence Woodside, 312 Wilton Apt.

Easley, S. C.: Dr. Robert P. Jeanes, Mrs. J. B. Robinson, Mrs. W. M. Scott.

Fountain Inn, S. C., C. L. Peden, Fred S. Peden, Oscar White, Mary H. Dillard.

POWELL IN FLORENCE

Edwin S. Powell, formerly of Bennettsville, S. C., is now associated with the Sander's Memorial hospital in Florence.

RUSSELL IN CHARLOTTE

A. V. Russell resides at 2012 Charlotte Drive, Charlotte, N. C. He is executive secretary for men at the Second Presbyterian church of that city.

Field Secretary Meets Many 'Boys'

The alumni secretary, out prospecting for P. C. material, sees the following P. C. men all in a day's work:

Johnson With NYA

Cliff Johnson, '36, with the NYA in Columbia, S. C.

Viser In Columbia

James Viser, '34, now with the Westinghouse Co., and located in Columbia for several weeks, joins the P. C. club at Bihari's restaurant, which includes L. A. McCall, '35; Cliff Johnson, '36; Dr. R. L. Coe, '17, and another P. C. man or two at any time.

Wilson At Batesburg

Jack Wilson, '24, at Batesburg-Leesville high, still looking bronzed and husky and as trim as the day he ran 103 yards on a kickoff against Erskine.

Tisdale Is Versatile

Then at Aiken is Wilson Tisdale, '35, all ready to move into a swell new school building. Tisdale coaches football, basketball, boxing and track and to show his versatility, coaches the glee club as well, and plays the organ at church on Sunday.

Tisdale had the thrill of sending his first football team against his first coach's team, Hugh Kolb's, '29, Hendersonville, N. C. eleven, and playing them to a 7-6 score.

Kolb will always be remembered by his classmates for his great game of football against Oglethorpe back in 1926.

Tisdale played under Kolb at Bishopville, and the long friendship brought former student and coach together in a big homecoming game at Aiken this fall.

Beckman Is Principal

On down the road—and Bill Beckman, '30, who captained the 1929 eleven, is teaching Langley-Bath youngsters and principal of the high school.

Beckman, handsome gridiron star,

DIRECTORY

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Louis W. Jackson, '28 President
Anderson, S. C.
Dr. D. O. Rhame, Jr., '26 Vice-Pres.
Clinton, S. C.

John Osman, '33 Sec.-Treas.
Clinton, S. C.

Alumni Trustees

Dr. S. C. Hays, '06 Clinton, S. C.
Jack H. Young Clinton, S. C.
J. M. Wilson, '13 Fayetteville, N. C.

MORE ALUMNI DOINGS

Further Activities Of Old Guard Here and There is still that and retains some of the iron-hand stuff that made him captain of "A" company of the R.O.T.C. battalion and a feared hazer.

Zealy With HOLC

Bill Zealy, '32, across the way at Denmark, is helping build houses with the H. O. L. C. and keeping plenty busy.

A Stop At Johnston

A stop at Johnston's corner drug store reveals Walter Wise, 39, who will be back at school next year.

Walking into the hotel dining room, and who is there but T. James, '33, K. A. from old Summertown way. T is married now, lives in Greenwood, works for Liggett and Myers and is the proud parent of a two-months-old baby boy.

T reminds us to remember T. B. McTeer, '34, now of Greenwood, married last summer to Virginia Murdaugh of Varnville, S. C. McTeer is now an insurance man in Greenwood.

Byrd At Graniteville

At Graniteville, as superintendent of schools, is H. M. Byrd, '14, who was at school with President Jacobs and calls him "Bill." Byrd is one of those who recalls the famous fight at the Newberry baseball game that must have been a real pitched battle, from all accounts.

In the course of a few days one runs across ten or twelve old P. C. men who make one feel at home and get one in a "bull session" on the school and back "when."

It is a refreshing feeling to find all P. C. men so enthusiastic about and interested in their Alma Mater and the work that is being done by President Jacobs.

POTTER TELLS WHERE ALL MEMBERS OF CLASS OF 1936 ARE LOCATED

Richard Potter, president of the class of '36, recently contributed a list of the addresses of every member of his class. Red is doing a swell job as class president. He feels that his duties did not cease when he returned the caps and gowns to the owners, and is really doing things toward making '36 a class that will hang together. He also reports that collections have been good toward the scholarship which the class bought.

Won't some of you other presidents send in a list like the one that follows:

Adams, P. A., 111 Franklin St., Dublin, Ga.
Addison, J. T., Goldville, S. C.
Anderson, L. E., Moore, S. C.
Andrews, E. R., Emory University, Emory, Ga.
Arnold, E. J., Yale Divinity School,

New Haven, Conn.

Blakely, Catherine, Chesterfield, S. C.

Blakely, Elizabeth, Latta, S. C.

Bradley, J. B., Box 266, Chickamauga, Ga.

Cannon, Sara, Box 60, Clinton, S. C.
Chapman, C. G., S. C. Medical college, Charleston, S. C.

Chapman, J. H., 4221 Ridgewood St., Columbia, S. C.

Charles, J. P., University of Missouri School of Journalism.

Cody, G. H., Estill, S. C.

Compton, R. M., Calhoun Falls, S. C.
Cranford, H. D., Augusta, Ga.

Davenport, Catherine, Laurens, S. C.
Dillard, Mary H., Fountain Inn, S. C.

Estes, T. L., Keowee School, Seneca, S. C.

Ferguson, W. M., Lanford, S. C.

Forehand, R. W., Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Freesland, J. E., Box 212, Dillon, S. C.

Frowein, F. W., Rt. 3, Spartanburg, S. C.

Gillis, M. D., Jr., Rt. 3, Fayetteville, N. C.

Gregg, F. M., Whitmire, S. C.

Guerrard, A. D., Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va.

Harmon, Paul, Milledgeville, Ga.

Holliday, J. F., Williamston, S. C.
Holman, C. H., Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Horne, W. S., Ware Shoals, S. C.
Hudson, C. M., 616 W. Washington St., Greenville, S. C. (University of Wisconsin, Madison).

Hughes, S. M., Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, Ga.

Johnson, C. R., care National Youth Administration, Columbia, S. C.

Jones, Lynn, Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va.

Levi, A. W., 1904 Vail Ave., Charlotte, N. C.

McClary, James, 207 (?) Newberry St., Boston, Mass.

McLees, R. C., New York. (?)

Milsap, W. J., Gable, S. C.

Mixson, L. H., 129 Ashly Ave., Charleston, S. C.

Oliver, G. E., Law School, University of Ga., Athens, Ga.

Patton, E. D., Laurens, S. C.

Pitman, E. K., University of Georgia, Athens, Ga.

Plaxico, Tom, State Training School, Clinton, S. C.

Potter, R. R., Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, Ga.

Ratchford, J. E., Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va.

Smith, J. H., Jr., Agricola, Va.

Stanton, E. E., U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

Todd, J. S., Clinton, S. C.

Valley, T. P., S. C. Medical College, Charleston, S. C.

(Continued on page eight)

Where Are They?

Walter Benton McCall, entered from Marion, S. C., attended 1926-30. B. A. 1930.

James Edward Means, Jr., entered from Greenville, S. C., attended 1926-30. B. A. 1930.

Robert Presnell Moore, entered from Laurens, S. C., attended 1929-31. B. S. 1931.

William Daniel McCormick, entered from St. Paul's, N. C., attended 1931-33. B. S. 1933.

William Johnson McCutchen, entered from St. Charles, S. C., attended 1929-33. B. A. 1933.

Neil C. McInnis, entered from Little Rock, S. C., attended 1931-33. B. S. 1933.

Ernest Edward Patterson, entered from Jackson Springs, N. C., attended 1931-33. B. S. 1933.

Leland Franklin Simpson, entered from Tumbling Shoals, S. C., attended 1892-95.

Samuel Luther Thompson, entered from Manning, S. C., attended 1895-1900.

Rev. Young Perry Scruggs, attended 1903-08.

Daniel Baker Smith, entered from Reidville, S. C., attended 1906-10. B. A. 1910.

Joseph Sanders Simpson, entered from Honea Path, S. C., attended 1909-13. B. A. 1913.

Harry Kuteman Sligh, entered from Seneca, S. C., attended 1907-12.

Robert Gordon Reed, entered from Columbia, S. C., attended 1913-15.

Cleveland Kent Schwarr, Jr., entered from Rock Hill, S. C., attended 1912-14.

William Garnet Sheldon, entered from Liberty, S. C., attended 1914-17.

Mrs. A. B. Parson (Miss Emma Edith Smith), entered from Clinton, S. C., attended 1915-19.

Mrs. R. B. Thomas (Miss Julia Tinsley), entered from Clinton, S. C., attended 1916-20. B. A. 1920.

James Leslie Smith, entered from Winnboro, S. C., attended 1917-21. B. A. 1921.

Amon Butler Stallworth, entered from Woodruff, S. C., attended 1917-21. B. A. 1921.

Joseph Logan Rosborough, entered from Ridgeway, S. C., attended 1917-1920.

Edgar Eugene Sheldon, entered from Liberty, S. C., attended 1921-25. B. A. 1925.

Rev. William Simpson Scott, entered from Columbia, S. C., attended 1919-23. B. A. 1923.

William Rose Ricker, entered from Sharon, S. C., attended 1920-24. B. A. 1924.

George Fortson Rucker, entered from Clinton, S. C., attended 1920-25. B. A. 1925.

High Point Writer Lauds Coach Johnson

Signal honor has been paid Presbyterian college's athletic director, Walter A. Johnson, by Frank Barfield, sports editor of The High Point Enterprise, in his column, "Frankly Speaking."

On last Monday, when Coach Johnson was in High Point with his boxers to give the Harry Bolick benefit fights, Mr. Barfield devoted his entire column to the South's dean of coaches.

He said, in part: "Walt is the dean of coaches in the South . . . He has been head football coach at Presbyterian college since 1915, except for a couple of years in the army, and while he was overseas trying to make the world safe for democracy he was captain of the 55th engineers. He also coached that division in athletics. We doubt if there is any other college coach in the South, maybe in the nation, who can boast of 22 years of service at the same institution.

"He will probably finish the remainder of his years—and may there be many of them—as athletic director of Presbyterian college. Through good years and bad, the hundreds of graduates of P. C. have stuck by Walter. He has won state championships, S.I.A.A. titles, and his track teams have copped more medals and trophies than all of other schools in that state combined. His football teams have never been door mats. They have consistently loomed as dangerous contenders for honors in the Palmetto state and have given some of the larger Southern schools many rude jolts . . .

"Walter is a Swede, one of those big fellows. You can tell that he is a Swede although he has lived in the South for 20 years. He is a great believer in the South and he likes to think of himself as a Southerner. There is always one incident about Walter which stands out prominently in my mind.

"It occurred at one of the annual conventions of the Southern Sports Writers' association. The coaches who were known as 'old timers' to the writers were kidding some of new Yankee coaches who had just come South. Specifically, Walt and some of the coaches were ribbing Don McCallister, who had just come to South Carolina from Toledo, O., and Hunk Anderson, now at N. C. State from Notre Dame.

" 'Say, Hunk,' called McCallister, 'we Yankee coaches are going to be forced to get together against these Southerners next fall. They appear to be out for our scalps.'

" 'Listen,' said Johnson, and he was serious, 'don't you worry about these Southerners. They'll treat you o. k. if you play fair with them. I like to think of myself as a Southerner, I've been down South so long, but don't you forget that I came South and adopted it as my home. And, if you came through creditably as a result of the state Golden Gloves boxing eliminations held in Greenville recently.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

(Continued from page five)

Curly Clements stole the show with a brand of fistic skill that gave him the lightweight title in the open class. John Wells Todd and Billy Burns, the ohter winners, won decisive victories in the welter and middleweight divisions, respectively.

FERGUSON TEACHING

Bill Ferguson, '31, is now teaching at Lockhart, S. C.

DICKSON IN GASTONIA

Rev. M. S. Dickson has been located at Oakboro, N. C. He is a member of the class of '22. President Harry Holland of the Charlotte chapter added his name to the rolls.

BROWNLEY FOUND

W. J. Brownley, '14, has been placed on the found list with address as the Woodside Cotton Mill, Greenville, S. C.

KING'S ADDRESS

Richard H. King, '95, prominent Y.M.C.A. worker, now, receives his mail at 83 Twenty-Sixth St., Atlanta.

UPSHUR IN HOLLYWOOD

Don Upshur, '33, still lives in the land of sunshine, on 1760 El Cerrito Road, Hollywood, Cal., and has just returned there after a visit in the old home town of Sumter, S. C.

BRIGHT IN DURHAM

The Rev. John Bright, Th.M., '28, is now associate pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Durham, N. C., and is a member of the book review

(McCallister) and Hunk want to stick around these parts you just learn to be Southerners yourselves.'

"He's a grand fellow, and those who get to meet Walter while he is here tonight will be that much richer through a new friendship."

department of the "Union Seminary Review."

MOORE SENDS CHECK

President Louis Jackson, '28, forwards a check for membership dues from A. R. Moore, '27, of Mt. Hope, W. Va.

Moore is now a partner in the firm of Moore and Rogers Chevrolet Co., Inc., Mt. Hope.

Thanks to Alumnus Moore for his membership check.

P. C. MEN ACTIVE

President W. P. Jacobs recently addressed the Oconee County Education association and discovered that several P. C. men are associated with it. Louis S. Holleman is president of the organization. Rev. C. K. Douglas, of Seneca, addressed one of the sections of the meeting.

HIERS WEDS MISS SAMS

Madison Hiers of Lexington, S. C., former P. C. student was recently married to Miss Thelma Sams, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wade Sams of Spartanburg. Hiers is a member of the staff of Liberty Mutual Life Insurance company, in Columbia, but lives in Lexington.

Potter Tells Where Every Member of Class of 1936 Is Located

(Continued from page seven)

Waldrep, F. B., Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Wilbanks, R. A., 404 Echols St., Greenville, S. C.

Wilson, H. M., Jr., Fort Jay, N. Y. Winn, M. E., Inman, S. C.

Wyatt, J. K., 610 Greene St., Augusta, Ga.

Martin, A. V., Duke University, Durham, N. C.

Gasque, Jack, Colonial Hotel, Florence, S. C.

Higbe, R. F., Ware Shoals, S. C.

Plowden, A. J., Jr., Summerton, S. C.

Upshur, T. T., 4 Loring Place, Sumter, S. C.

ATTENTION, ALUMNI

To: John E. Osman, Sec.-Treas.,
P. C. Alumni Association.

I am enclosing Five Dollars ($5.00) in payment of my Alumni Dues for 1936-37. (This includes a subscription to The Blue Stocking).

Name..... Class.....

Address.....

.....